DISRUPTER

Iris disrupts the concept of talent by focusing on the notion, that talent is not a rare ability that only few people can display in their psysical achievements, rather, talent is something everyone has. By focusing on other people's talents, you will experience a noticeable improvement in effeciency, teamwork, problem solving, and communication.

INSPIRING SPEAKINGS

When Iris speaks, arranges team days, and workshops, she keeps her focus on the hidden talents and how they play an essential role in relating to other people. With inspiring speakings, Iris gives humorous and qualified advice to how anyone can play their talent, as well as creating new and improved actions for the company. The lectures are always spiced with illustrative exercises and examples from our everyday lives.

Besides touring around Denmark with her speakings and lectures, Iris is a Talent Coach – she coaches leaders and teams, and she acts as a sparring partner in strategic development and innovation processes.

SOFTWAREPLATFORM

As her latest achievement, Iris has developed an innovative software platform, Play Your Talent, which can uncover talents 'in real time'. The platform opens up a new and innovative way of working with talents, and inside the system, you find the 'goal' program which is made to execute on talents, goals, values, and follow ups.

”Knowing our talents is a powerful tool when we want to strengthen the tolerance of our differences, create motivation and job satisfaction, as well as increase efficiencies when solving tasks. Furthermore, it is a useful tool in discovering how each person can maintain their own personal drive”
